Plentiful Fresh Foods Given As Main Cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living dipped one-tenth of one per cent in August, the Labor Department announced today, mainly because of plentiful fresh foods at lower cost.

The department said consumer prices have risen one-half of one per cent in the first eight months of this year, "less than during any comparable period since 1955."

Big Four Private Meet Set

To Consider UN Secretary Replacement

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Big Four powers were reported to have agreed to meet privately late today and consider a stop-gap replacement for the late U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

An informed diplomat said Nathan Barnes of Liberia, president of the Security Council, had arranged a meeting of the U.N. ambassadors of Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Barnes had asked the Big Four to get together with him and give their ideas on some temporary arrangement to fill the gap left when Hammarskjöld was killed Sept. 18 in a plane crash in Northern Rhodesia.

The Soviet Union has insisted that a so-called troika of three men, each with a veto, replace Hammarskjöld, whether on a temporary or permanent basis. The United States and the others have insisted that it should be only one man.

Barnes' consultations should make it clear whether any compromise is possible.

Over the weekend, he tried to set up a meeting of the five permanent members of the Security Council—the Big Four plus Nationalist China.

He failed because Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin said Nationalist China must be barred from the meeting.

Barnes then invited the Big Four to meet not as Security Council members but simply as big powers.

Wolf Bounties Cut By Pettis County Court

The Pettis County Court expects to save a considerable amount of money in the reduction of payments for wolf bounties beginning Oct. 1.

County Clerk Jim Green said today the court had ordered him to reduce the bounty paid on full-grown wolves from $15 to $6, and reduce the payment for wolf pups from $2.50 to $2, beginning next month.

This move is in line with a reduction in wolf bounties decided upon a few months ago by the two tiers of Missouri counties on the Kansas border. These counties reduced the bounty because it was suspected that bounties had been paid on wolves killed in Kansas, then brought across the border to collect the higher bounty paid in Missouri.

The reduction in these counties resulted in considerably less money being paid out, in the first few months the reduction was in effect. In view of this reduction in payments of tax dollars, the Pettis County Court decided to follow the action taken by the western Missouri counties.

Under the old system of payments, Pettis County paid out $2,492.50 in 1960, $1,530 in 1959, $2,740 in 1958 and $2,995 in 1957.

These payments should be reduced more than half, in the next year, for two reasons: The overall bounty has been reduced about half, and with the lower payment in effect, it is expected there will be fewer bounties claimed.

According to state law, the state refunds two-thirds of the money paid out for wolf bounties back to the county.

Former Ike Defense Chief Wilson Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Edwin Wilson, former president of General Motors and secretary of defense in the first Eisenhower administration, died in his sleep at his Louisiana plantation today, apparently of heart disease. He was 71 years old.

A large man with a quick tongue and an even quicker smile, Wilson, many times a millionaire, often reduced his aim in life to four words — "Get along with people."

He was a genius at electrical engineering, graduating from Carnegie Tech at 19. But he made his name in the world as a manager of men.

Upon being named president of General Motors in January 1941, he told an interviewer: "I believed in education; I believed in work and production—to do something always fascinated me, and I always thought it worthwhile to get along with people. I lived at a very favorable time. I saw the country develop in an industrial and productive way."

Wilson ran General Motors for 11 years. Under his leadership the giant automobile company was converted into the world's biggest producer of war material.

With the coming of peace, Wilson returned the company to full-scale auto production in record time.

The world at large, however, knew him best during his tenure in Washington where he was known fondly as "Engine Charlie."

He moved into the political arena during the Korean War. And as he took the defense job he said: "I can't promise how I'll do but I'll give it a damned good whirl."

Lightning Does $200 Damage to a Garage

Lightning struck at the H. L. Finley farm on Route 2 at 6:40 p.m. Sunday, causing a fire that did an estimated $200 damage to a garage. Pettis County firemen answered the call, and doused the fire with little trouble.

A witness told the firemen that the lightning struck the barn, and ran from the barn to the garage and on to the smokehouse. The witness said he was standing near a water tank, near the barn, and the bolt knocked a pail out of his hand. He said the bolt was so strong it dented the pail.

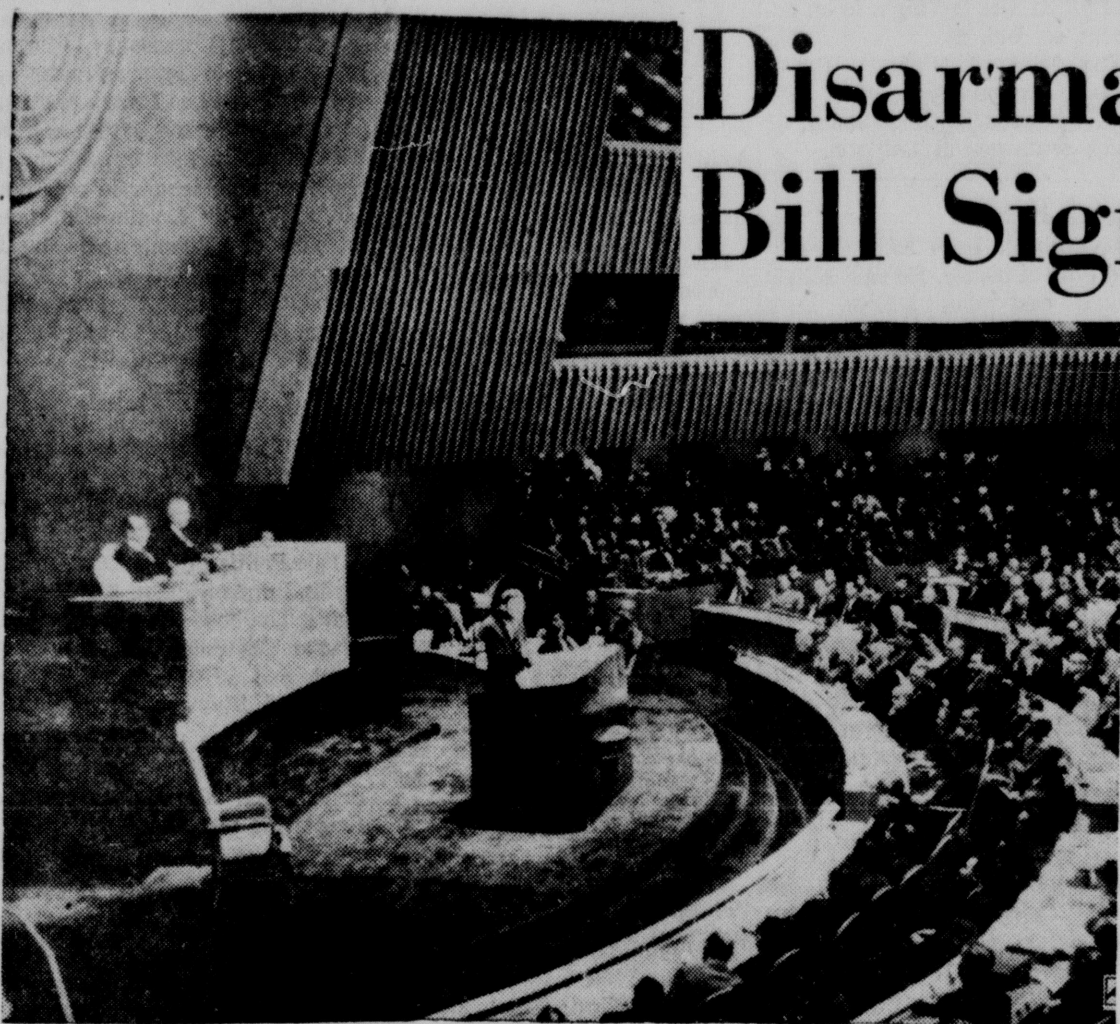

Some boards were knocked off the barn, but the building did not catch fire. The privately-owned 32-volt electrical system was knocked out.

See Need For Upsurge In Building

Real Estate Dealers Agree: Building Outlook Is Good

"The future looks good for homes in the next three years," is the general opinion of 17 Sedalia real estate dealers, interviewed in a survey aimed at trying to determine the reasons behind Sedalia's slump in home building, future needs and the thinking of local real estate people.

Five dealers, George Miller, West Side Realty; Bob George, George Realty; Leo L. Morris, Oswald Realty; T. L. Greening, Greening Realty; Lewis Brown, Sedalia Real Estate; had conservative opinions on the outlook for home building in Sedalia. Replies such as: "Pretty well firm, no increase seen, steady, not too much increase, some increase but not much;" were given by the five.

These nine questions were asked: 1. What do you think has caused the recent slump in Sedalia home building? 2. What are your views on the outlook for the future? 3. Does your firm plan to invest in a stepped up building program? 4. How many new homes do you think Sedalia needs for the next year? 5. How many homes in the next three years? 6. How many homes do you have available for sale right now? 7. How many available for rent? 8. Are your listings predominantly 2, 3 or 4 bedroom homes? 9. Are you getting more calls for homes than you have available?

The cold war, the fact that Sedalia overbuilt once, lack of public interest, no potential buyers, fly-by-night building, tight money, enough homes available, lack of industry, too much indebtedness, no demand, employment down; were among answers given to the first question.

Four of the 17 dealers plan to invest in stepped up building, George Lehmeier, Town and Country Realty, said his firm had just acquired option on 33 acres of land near the Country Club and were planning to build about 100 homes there in the $12,000 to $15,000 cost bracket. Lawrence Collins, Collins Realty, said he had built two homes so far this year and planned to build one more during the calendar year and would keep at least one home in construction stages at all times for the present. Collins' homes have been in the $13,500 to $15,000 cost bracket. Larry Mathews, Broadway Realty, says he plans to invest in building less expensive homes and T. L. Greening, Greening Realty, said he would invest in home building.

On this question, David Hieronymus, said he would like to see local construction firms, primarily concerned with building homes, pre-commit their houses for a 35 to 40 year loan. He said he felt this would help sales considerably.

The number of homes believed needed locally varies with the different real estate men interviewed. Here's how they see Sedalia's needs for the next year: Hieronymus, 150 homes; Kenzie Miller, not too many; George Lehmeier, 400 to 500; C. J. "Jack" Feig, 250; Collins, 250; George Miller, 100; Jim Kueck, Porter Realty, about average (140); Bob George, no estimate; Leo L. Morris, Carl Oswald Realty, no estimate; Larry Mathews, 100; Burford Realty, not too many, about average; T. L. Greening, not any less per year; Clinton Mueller, Donnahue Loan and Investment Co., definite increase; John Beatty, Show-Me, increase above average; Lewis Brown, 100 or more; Riley Mason, no estimate and William Bunn, no estimate.

The opinion on costs of homes needed ranges from $10,000 to $16,500.

The city's new home needs for the next three years are seen this way: Hieronymus, 400; Kenzie Miller, depends on next year and the international situation; Lehmeier, 1,000; Feig, 750; Collins, 750; George Miller, 500; Kueck, 400 to 500; George, no guess; Morris, no guess; Mathews, 300; Burford, about average; Greening, 300 or 400; Mueller, no guess; Beatty, expects increase, no guess; Brown, 300 to 500; Mason, no estimate; William Bunn, no estimate.

A considerable number of homes were listed by most dealers as being available at this time, but each pointed out that homes available are older homes and that the majority are either rented or occupied by the owners. The 17 gave a total of 2,205 homes now available for sale within the city. Many are duplicate listings, however.

One dealer, Feig, said at this time last year he had 50 listed and that he was now turning away potential customers because the type homes they are seeking are not available in Sedalia. On the question of rentals, the 17 dealers have 27 listings as available now. Homes available for rent vary in number of bedrooms.

Regarding the number of calls from potential home buyers and those persons interested in renting resulted in a split. About half said business was booming, the other half said it was slow or average.

Sidelights of the interviews turned up these interesting points: Collins said he had built nine homes in 1959, three in 1960 and only two this year. Hieronymus said he believes the demand is greater for three bedroom homes, from three to five years old, with basement, in the $12,000 to $15,000 cost bracket. He pointed out that the $450 down payment for this cost-range home apparently was the reason.

Lehmeier said he had already sold or rented six or seven homes to Corps of Engineer personnel, assigned here on the missile project, in recent days.

Feig somewhat shared the opinion of Hieronymus on the cost (Please Turn to Page 2 Col. 3)

Disarmament Agency Bill Signed By JFK

Terms Agency a Symbol Of US Desires to Disarm

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy signed a bill today creating a disarmament agency. He called it a symbol of the United States desires to disarm mankind of the weapons of war.

Kennedy, in his New York hotel suite, wrote his name on legislation to establish an arms control and disarmament agency.

The President advocated such an agency to provide the tools for a disarmament program which the United States could place before the world as a solution to the threat of future devastating wars.

Bulletin

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — President Kennedy's plane blew out a tire on the main landing wheel when it hit the runway here at 2:53 p. m. But the President and his wife disembarked safely.

Kennedy announced that William C. Foster, former foreign aid administrator and assistant secretary of defense, would head the agency.

Foster, with Kennedy's top disarmament and nuclear test ban advisers, joined Secretary of State Dean Rusk and a group of House members to witness the signing ceremony.

Kennedy wrote the bill into law as Moscow radio reported that the Soviet Union had rejected the latest U.S. disarmament proposals as unsatisfactory. The United States made public its arms reduction program in the United Nations Monday.

Kennedy noted that Foster, who had been a consultant to disarmament adviser John J. McCloy in drafting the U.S. program, is a Republican. He also remarked that GOP leaders in Congress had helped pass the measure.

The chief executive said the establishment of the agency "symbolizes the importance the United States places on arms control and disarmament in its foreign policy."

He said the ultimate goal is to liberate the world of the danger of war and the terrible burden of armaments.

Kennedy signed the bill just before leaving for La Guardia Airport where an Air Force plane waited to take him to Newport, R.I.

He and Mrs. Kennedy will spend the remainder of the week there. Kennedy and his wife will spend a six-day work-and-rest stay at her parents' Newport estate.

Search for Missing Pilot Called Off After 13 Days

The "Redcap" search for John Parker, Kansas City, and his missing Bonanza Beechcraft airplane was halted shortly after midnight Monday. Maj. Jack Kehl, commander of the search mission, ordered the search cancellation after 11 days of effort failed to develop any satisfactory leads on the missing plane and its pilot.

It was 9:57 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 13, when Parker was last heard from and that was at the Vichy International Airport when he flew over and sought weather reports. Later a storm front invaded the central portion of Missouri and no further word was received from the Kansas Cityan.

Friday, Sept. 15, a request to the Missouri Wing of the Civil Air Patrol by Mrs. Parker asked a search be made for her husband. Immediately a large search plan was started with headquarters located first in Sullivan, with negative results. Sunday, Sept. 17, search headquarters were moved to Sedalia and established at the Capt. Tom Wilson CAP Memorial Building at Municipal Airport.

From Sunday, Sept. 17, until Thursday air search parties combed the Ozark and Lake of the Ozarks area without results. Then a big drive was planned with ground searching units coordinating with air searchers for Saturday and Sunday. Weather conditions hampered the aircraft from coming to Sedalia and only about seven planes were available and they flew a few sorties. However, ground units were formed and more than 40 went

JFK's Plan Blasted By Radio Moscow

Proposals Are Unsatisfactory On Disarmament

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow asserted today President Kennedy's disarmament proposals to the U.N. General Assembly are unsatisfactory.

In a home service, Russian-language broadcast, the radio declared:

"The U.S. program makes no provision for the abolition of arms and armed forces, for the banning of nuclear and other forms of weapons of mass extermination, or for the liquidation of military bases on other people's territory."

The broadcast said that, as outlined by Kennedy, "the main emphasis is laid on the discontinuance of the production of fissionable materials and on control over the launching of devices into cosmic space."

"As is known," it added, "these measures alone are in no way capable of guaranteeing general and complete disarmament."

"Kennedy did not say a word about the attitude of the U.S.A. to such vitally urgent questions as the struggle of the Algerian people for independence, the national liberation struggle of the peoples of Angola or the situation in Southwest Africa."

Workman's Body Is Recovered In River

Marcotte, a hoisting engineer for the Army Engineers, had been missing since Sept. 15. Police said he apparently fell in the river while working alone on a hoisting crane at a grain mill construction project.

and type of homes. He said homes should cost about $13,500, have three bedrooms and a basement as a must. Asked if the fallout scare had had any effect on the demand for basements, Feig said he thought not, that people were looking for as much space as possible.

Results of the interview points to the fact that many Sedalians living in older homes are interested in selling and building new homes. What happens when a potential customer shows up? Apparently the seller plans to seek a rental property temporarily until he can build his new home.

come and leaves have left the trees. Vision to the ground from the air is practically nil, and the undergrowth is so heavy it is almost impossible for ground searching parties to get through some areas.

It is most likely that later in November the Missouri Wing will call for a "Scarcap" and the search will be renewed. Col. Padgett also said it is most likely deer hunters who are more familiar with the areas may come upon the plane and pilot during the hunting season.

The two officers were of the opinion that Parker, if not killed in the crash, has died from exposure by this time.

1st Lt. Gordon W. Watson, of the Kansas City squadron, remained on duty at the Sedalia headquarters "around-the-clock" from Sunday, Sept. 17, until about 4:30 p. m. Monday when he was flown back to Kansas City by Capt. Dale Lane of the Sedalia Squadron.

Maj. Kehl said the Sunday search included more than 35 cadets, along with approximately 100 senior members of the Civil Air Patrol and Civil Defense volunteers.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Last Thursday was one of the hottest days in our city's history. Our wonderful 14-year-old collie was in the yard as usual. I had to fill his water pan three times.

About mid-afternoon he began to whine so I let him in the house. He looked at me pelatingly, panted a few times and then rolled over and died. Blaze was like a member of the family. It took all my strength to call my neighbor and ask her to bury him — which she did.

When my husband came home I told him about Blaze. He turned on me like a maniac. He said I was stupid not to call a vet. He claims the vet might have saved him. I tried to explain Blaze dropped dead before I knew anything was wrong but he refused to listen.

My husband then went to the phone and called his mother and sisters and told them that my stupidity had killed the dog. Nothing I said seemed to get through. I'm really annoyed at him for making me out to be a nut. Any advice?—WILMA.

Dear Wilma: Your husband is distraught over the death of the dog and he is reacting in a child-like manner — placing the blame on the handiest party. A dog 14 years old is equivalent to a human being of 98. I'd say Blaze

150 Youngsters At 'Kid's Day' Held Sunday

Approximately 150 youngsters from Warrensburg and Sedalia were entertained at Whiteman Air Force Base Sunday in the 13th annual observance of Kids' Day.

This is the eighth year the Air Force has jointly sponsored Kids' Day with Kiwanis International and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Movies in the base theater were first on the program planned by Major Warren V. Hastings, project officer, followed by a tour of a KC-97 Tanker, Sentry Dog demonstration and then lunch in the base dining hall three.

Rounding out the program, base firemen gave a fire fighting demonstration and base judo experts performed for the group, allowing some to participate in modified action.

Threatening skies held attendance down somewhat, but overall some 500,000 youngsters were entertained at 140 USAF bases. In addition to Air Force Bases, 4,800 communities in the United States and Canada participated in last year's Kids' Day program.

Dime Cup of Coffee Steams Up Lawsuit

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The 10-cent cup of coffee has steamed up a $170,000 lawsuit.

A Minneapolis restaurant contends it stands to lose that much because a large employer has installed coffee vending machines on its various floors and told its workmen to use them.

The restaurant, on the ground floor, alleges that its loss in coffee break revenue is "disastrous."

Cup of Coffee Hits Peak at 15 Cents

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A cup of coffee, which used to be five cents and then climbed to a dime, now sells for 15 cents in some Austin restaurants.

"We had to make the adjustment because our costs keep going up," said Harry Akin, owner of the Night Hawk restaurant. The Night Hawk charges 15 cents for coffee and tea, with or without meals.

The Religious Majority

Emphasizing "a gigantic influence," which he thinks is too much ignored by the press and the public, a prominent publicity expert has recently pointed out that the over-all total of members of religious movements, presumably churches and other groups, exceeds the number of members of all the Communist parties in the world.

The Roman Catholic Church is, of course, the largest and greatest religious organization actively and vitally opposed to communism. But despite the effort of some ultraconservatives to characterize certain socially minded ministers as pro-Communists, or as apathetic toward communism, careful observation suggests that, both in spirit and in its organized life, Protestantism is no less opposed to communism.

What is lacking is the incentive and the power to make the vast religious forces, so overwhelming in numbers, more effective in asserting, upholding, and propagandizing the freedom upon which this religious life is founded.

This latter is one of the most important points that needs more stressing throughout the world; for it stands in sharp contrast to the lack of such freedom behind the iron curtain in Communist lands.

It is not only the case in the United States. It is true of Great Britain, of Canada, and other democracies. But we ought to remind the whole world everywhere that in the United States everybody is free to be a Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Jew, a member of any of the many Protestant denominations, or any of the many diverse religious organizations, no matter how "unorthodox" or how much they may be opposed by others.

It is our greatest freedom, and it is typical of, if indeed it does not underlie all our freedoms. It is our greatest possession, and we ought to be shouting about it, loud and long, and everywhere.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Vatican Treaty Sets an Example

DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Communist Party and the Catholic Church don't particularly love each other, but the Vatican may prove an example to the Kremlin for solution of the Berlin crisis.

Premier Khrushchev told me last month that he was willing to help guarantee the future independence of West Berlin and provide access to it from West Germany. Senators Fulbright of Arkansas and Mansfield of Montana suggested some time ago that Berlin be an International City, perhaps with part of the United Nations located there.

President Kennedy is not averse to such a plan, and last week Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, Editor of Izvestia, published an editorial proposing that the UN be located in Berlin.

All this fits in with my recent suggestion that Berlin be made a "City of Peace" in memory of Dag Hammarskjöld—with part of the UN located there. In my opinion it would be a mistake to move all the UN out of New York. It would be too great a victory for both the Goldwater isolationists and the Russians. This is something that both the Senator from Arizona and the Kremlin see eye-to-eye on.

Best example to safeguard the future of Berlin is the Lateran Treaty of 1929 guaranteeing the Independence of the Holy See. The Vatican's Guarantee Senator Fulbright, who has made a study of this, points out that "The Vatican State is a separate sovereign juridical entity entirely surrounded by the Italian City of Rome. The treaty recognizes with precision the problem of access across Italian territory."

"The Italian Government is precluded from any intervention in the Vatican State," Sen. Fulbright points out. "Italy ensures the Vatican City an adequate supply of water, communication with state railways, direct connection of Telegraph, Telephone, Radio-Telegraph, Radio-Telephone, and Postal Service." Fulbright also points out that the Lateran Treaty, if adopted for Berlin, would absolutely guarantee the transit of materials and supplies across East Germany to Berlin.

"Goods arriving from Foreign countries and destined from the Vatican City," says the Treaty, "shall always be admitted in transit over Italian Territory at any point on the Italian Frontier and at any Italian port, with entire exemption from Customs."

Premier Khrushchev repeated to me several times last month that he would cooperate in any kind of guarantees for a free city of Berlin—after a peace treaty was signed with East Germany.

"We are going to sign that treaty," he said. "Sixteen years after a war is long enough to wait. It would be the happiest day for us if you would join us in the treaty. But we are going to sign anyway."

Once that treaty is signed, the wartime military occupation of West Berlin ceases, he said. However, he emphasized that he would be willing to cooperate in guaranteeing the future independence of West Berlin if we in turn recognized East Germany.

The example of the Vatican Treaty and the opportunity to memorialize Dag Hammarskjöld by making Berlin a "City of Peace" may prove the way out of the present deadlock.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH: Decline of the Mule. — It is hardly surprising that only 54 mules were enrolled by four exhibitors in the competition at the State Fair in Sedalia, despite the fact that premiums of $1660 were offered for 21 classes. On the contrary, it is surprising to find there are enough Missouri mules left to have a contest.

The Missouri mule, which often came from Illinois, has been in a decline in the Midwest since 1920. In that year there were nearly 400,000 of the animals in Missouri. Thirty years later the number was reported at 63,000. Census figures in 1955 listed 20,000. Mules still are considered of value for military purposes in China and Cuba, and perhaps other places. The finest mules are said to hail from the United States and Spain (in the '20s many St. Louis students got summer jobs shepherding mules to Barcelona), followed by Portugal and Italy.

As everyone knows, the mule is a stubborn creature and may hold out a little longer against farm mechanization. But its days of cantankerous glory belong to the past. It is quite possible that Missouri children may grow up and die without ever seeing a mule, which would indeed be cause for regret.

Assist for Small Business Program

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Amendments to the Small Business Act of 1958 just approved by Congress are expected to increase greatly the Small Business Administration programs to promote economic growth and decrease unemployment.

A principal expansion will come in loans to small business investment companies. SBA's authority to buy debentures of a local investment company is being stepped up from $150,000 to $400,000. It is also authorized to loan up to 50 per cent of a local company's capital and surplus. This will enable such a company to start with $1.2 million.

The local investment companies are being given authority to make loans of up to $500,000 without SBA approval from Washington. But SBA procedures for enforcing compliance with regulations has been strengthened.

SBA may now suspend charters of companies whose affairs are out of order.

In a separate measure, SBA is being given additional authority to work with Department of Defense and General Services Administration to obtain more subcontracting for small business from the government's prime contractors.

This new authorization is the result of Congressional disapproval of Department of Defense for giving 84 per cent of its prime contracts to big business corporations.

Change In Tuberculin Test Is No Cause for Alarm

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Q — My daughter is in nurses' training. When she went in, she had a tuberculin skin test and it was reported negative. Now, a year later, it was repeated and it's positive and she's being given pills to take. Does this mean she has T.B.? If she has, why are they letting her continue her course? If she hasn't, why are they giving her treatment?

A — I don't blame you for being confused, dear mother. But what is being done is in the best interests of your daughter as well as the community. Let me try to explain.

The fact that the skin test changed from negative to positive indicates that your daughter has now developed a successful defense mechanism against the tubercle bacillus. To do this, she must have met the organism and conquered it.

She must be free from any symptoms or signs of active infection if the school physician and authorities permit her to continue her studies and her work.

It is now the policy of most experts to supplement the defenses of those who convert from a negative to a positive reaction by giving mouth doses of a safe and inexpensive drug (isoniazid) that is a powerful enemy of tubercle bacilli.

Rest secure in the belief that your daughter is in competent hands and that it is consistent with good practice to have her take the drug and continue her

Congress is also giving Small Business Administration $250 million more money for its job.

Subject to final appropriations on which there is little doubt, Congress has authorized an increase of $150 million for the business loan program. This brings the total to $725 million.

The disaster loan authorization is being increased by $25 million to a total of $150 million. This program permits loans to small business firms displaced by federal construction of highways, urban renewal projects or other public works.

The small business investment company authorization is being increased by $75 million to a total of $325 million.

This makes the total lending authority available to Small Business Administration in revolving funds $1.2 billion.

Actual funds appropriated have already been stepped up by $20 million this year. Pending in a final supplemental bill still before Congress is another $130 million appropriation. This would make total funding $890 million to date.

This increase in financing reflects the rapidly increasing SBA activities under its new administrator, John E. Horne, former administrative assistant to Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama.

Soon after taking office in February, he sent letters to 8,000 local chambers of commerce and development companies to promote his agency.

He got a heavy reply. SBA field offices were then put to work on prospects.

The Area Redevelopment Act of 1961 then gave SBA two new jobs to do. Department of Commerce assigned it full responsibility for making small business loans in depressed areas. And Department of Agriculture delegated to SBA the making of small business loans for rural depressed areas.

Any such area in which Labor Department now reports unemployment higher than 6 per cent for SBA loans at 4 per cent instead of the normal 5½ per cent. Also, standards for determining what constitutes a small business are liberalized by 25 per cent.

Horne is now trying to shift part of his program out of straight government financing and into commercial banking channels. He has just announced that if a private bank will take one-fourth of any small business loan of up to $350,000 at whatever interest rate it wishes to charge, the government will take the other three-fourths at 5½ per cent.

Horne is also setting up new small business advisory councils.

Though the big industry BAC formerly functioning under Department of Commerce has become a cropper, SBA wants its regional small business advisory councils already in existence expanded into a system of state councils.

And a new national council made up of the 15 regional council vice chairmen holds its first meeting in Washington this month. It will be dedicated to maintaining free enterprise.

We, the Women

Tip for Husband-Students: Wives Need to Unwind

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Times do change! When wives first started working in large numbers they were told they must soft-pedal their jobs to keep from antagonizing their husbands.

They were also warned not to let their pay checks go to their heads and make them independent in their attitudes, instead of remaining clinging vines.

And, of course, they were not supposed to expect any extra consideration from their husbands because they were helping to earn the family living.

Now, in a new book, "A Woman's Guide to Earning a Good Living," the author goes into the problem of the young wife who is putting her husband through college.

"One of the problems arising from this strictly contemporary mode of marriage is that of home study for the husband. If the wife is the 'tired businesswoman,' she is the one who craves occasional diversion in the evening after a hard day in office or classroom. But evenings are the husband's study time.

"How you as the wife work this out is strictly a personal affair, but worked out it must be, and on the same frank, calm basis as any other divergence of views that may emanate from your working life.

"Some husbands can see the wisdom (from a psychological point of view) of their wives relaxing over a bridge table or at the movies after a full day's work."

And that wasn't written by a career woman, either — but by a man. So it looks as though the working wife has made great strides in the last 20 years. Wives then had already won the right to work, if they chose, but they hadn't won the right to think of themselves as working partners, due all the consideration and privileges of any breadwinner. That's a giant step—but whether or not it is in the right direction will remain to be seen.

The Mature Parent

World of Difference Between 'Pry' and 'Care'

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

On Saturday morning Jill is late getting up. When she finally drifts into the kitchen for coffee, she looks so tired that we ask, "Something wrong? Didn't you and Alec have a good time last night?" In a voice as pale as her face, Jill says, "What? Oh, yes, we had a fine time, thanks."

But 10 minutes later, it appears that she and Alec had anything but a good time. From the telephone in the hall where she is confiding her distress to a friend, bis of intense conversation float in to us:

"So I said, 'What makes you think you can tell me what parties I can go to?' . . . and he said 'That's all I wanted to know' . . . and I said, 'What's that mean?' . . . and Al said. . ."

We hear our daughter crying.

It is self-respecting for young people to withhold their dating problems from us.

It is also self-respecting for us to feel concern with these problems.

So while it is proper to refrain from pressing Jill to give us her confidence, it is also proper for us to express our interest in her distress.

Quite often an adolescent child's secrecy with sexual problems is due to his terror that any confidence he extends to us will lead to our monopolizing his interests. This fear gives his evasion of our questions a false appearance of resentment. Unless we know this, we can retreat too hastily when a son or daughter is struggling with the disturbing perplexities of a love affair that he may really want to confide to us.

So on these occasions, the wise thing seems to be to say, "I don't want to know anything you don't want to tell me. On the other hand, I will be very glad to listen to you if you do want to talk to me."

We parents can lean over backward to avoid accusations of "prying" by adolescent children. We can be so anxious to avoid any appearance of intruding on their emotional business that we actually give the impression that we don't care about their suffering.

Such an impression isn't fair to us. We care deeply about their suffering, should not allow them to confuse our interest in them with "prying" into their affairs.

7:30 in the morning. But there is no school in the afternoon. Summer vacations are short.

When, around age 16, these children complete their regular school, they are probably more educated than our high school graduates who have spent 12 years in school.

Oscar Hopes Jammed Into Movie Houses

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Theater bookers' headache—trying to jam the Oscar hopefuls into Los Angeles houses before the year-end deadline. Among the December releases: "The Children's Hour," "West Side Story," "Judgment at Nurnberg," "Pocketful of Miracles," "Majority of One," "El Cid," "King of Kings," "Tender is the Night," "Summer and Smoke," "Four Horsemen."

"Ben-Hur" is finally closing at the Egyptian a few weeks short of two years, believed to be a local record. Ad line: "The word for Robert Rossen's 'The Hustler' is prim-i-tive." Is that good?

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer stuck together during the four years he couldn't find work, then split when he found success as a director. How do you figure it? Note Mort Sahl's blowup over hecklers at the Crescendo. He who dish out must learn to take it. Watch it girls! Carroll Baker, Natalie Wood, Deborah Kerr and Debbie Reynolds get single top billing in new films. That's a heavy load for any girl to carry. United Artists is finally releasing "Summer of the 17th Doll," filmed three summers ago in Australia with Ernest Borgnine, Anne Baxter, John Mills, Angela Lansbury. New title: "Season of Passion!"

Reports that Marlon Brando gets $2 million salary for "Mutiny on the Bounty" are exaggerated. It's only $1 million—$500,000 guarantee for 20 weeks plus golden hours of $25,000 a week. Plus 10 per cent of gross receipts. MGM turned down offers to buy the Bounty ship, will use it to publicize the film.

This may be the last season for the Nelson family on TV. Harriet is hankering to do a Gracie Allen. Frank Sinatra needs a strong film role. It ain't in "Devil at 4 O'Clock." The volcano has a better role than the actors.

Natalie Wood is the hottest gal in town following previews of "Splendor in the Grass" and "West Side Story". The Natalie-Bob Wagner-Joan Collins-Warren Beatty combo is the most promising round robin since Lana Turner, Lex Barker, Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas switched partners.

It's Time To Complete Your Garden Harvest

Sweetpotatoes can be harvested any time now. Just be sure to harvest them before it gets too chilly. Sweetpotatoes exposed to temperatures below 50 degrees for several hours or more are likely to rot or decay in storage. So dig as soon as they attain adequate size, but not later than the first week or two of October.

Sweetpotatoes should be cured by subjecting the roots to 85 degree or above temperatures for about 10 days. Then the potatoes should be stored at a temperature of 55 to 60 degrees. Temperatures below 50 will cause spoilage. Temperatures much above 65 will lead to excessive sprouting.

Harvest winter squash and pumpkins most any time after Oct. 1. If the skin or rind cannot be punctured with the thumbnail, the squash is probably mature. Butternut, butterscup, and acorn will keep in a cool basement most all winter if they are not bruised in harvesting. Use pruning shears to cut the squash from the vine. Leave about 2 inches of stem on the squash.

If you still have healthy tomato plants it will pay you to pinch the tips of all the terminal branches. The small green tomatoes that have set on will likely attain sufficient size, so that when the first frost comes along this fall they can be picked.

Pick all mature green tomatoes prior to the first frost and place them in a shallow tray or box. Keep them in your basement. They will gradually ripen and provide you with tomatoes for several weeks after the first killing frost.

Turnips, and carrots can withstand several hard frosts. In fact, parsnips can be left in the ground all winter. In event of a hard freeze, it would be well to dig the turnips and carrots or mulch heavily with leaves or straw.

Don't forget to have your garden fall plowed this year. The only exception would be if you have a green manure crop growing. While there have been many claims as to the advantages of fall plowing, I think the main advantage is that you can get into the garden earlier next spring to get your early crops of peas, lettuce, potatoes, and cabbage planted.

Good News Not Really Good On First Tax Bill

MANCHESTER, Mo. — At first glance 1,300 taxpayers in Manchester may have thought it was good news when the St. Louis County director of revenue instructed them to throw away their 1961 personal property tax bills.

The bad news was evident at second glance. Revenue Director James Hopkins explained in the notices Sunday that the bills received earlier were too low. Hopkins said the taxes were computed on the basis of a 70-cents per $100 valuation. The levy is $1.05 per $100 valuation. He said accurate tax bills will be distributed today.

Military Research Gives Consumers Many Products

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A complete meal instantly prepared by the housewife as easily as a cup of coffee—thanks to the Army. Perishable food preserved without refrigeration—thanks to the Army.

A low-cost helicopter for businessmen, a pill to swallow that will make mosquitoes fly away from you, a quality radio the size of a future pen for tomorrow's teen-agers.

All these future goodies and more are promised to consumers—presumably taxpayers—all as an extra dividend for the money being poured into research programs primarily aimed at military defense of the nation from its enemies.

Six generals and two colonels have presented these wonders at a meeting of the Aviation-Space Writers' Association as reminder to taxpayers that civilians also frequently benefit from the research tied to the defense program, now in the process of being expanded.

A classic example is the aerosol bomb, originally developed to spray insecticides during World War II in the South Pacific, and now used for a long list of civilian goods from shaving soap to whipped cream.

Another is the millions of dollars poured into the development of military jet transports which made economically feasible the jet airliners civilians use today. Civilian benefits still to come include many other wonders.

New plastic tubing developed by the Army Medical Corps can replace torn arteries in arms and legs. Heretofore it has been used only in the trunk of the body. Military scientists also are working on an oral drug to combat malaria and nitrogen-mustard treatment of cancer.

Brig. Gen. Clifton F. von Kann, director of Army aviation, says that because the Army will need more than 3,500 turbine-powered, four-passenger helicopters, the you're being asked to

"think big, think compact and think small."

For 1962

“Think Hard”

By GEORGE ROMNEY, President, American Motors Corporation

In the 1962 car announcements there will be so many names, models and sizes, that people will be confused.

You will be asked to "think big, or think compact, or think small" as to the size or kind of car you really need.

We recommend, instead, that you "Think Hard."

Think hard about the things you want most in your next car.

Then look hard.

Look for most value. There are more than 100 improvements in the 1962 Ramblers. See how many of these advances are missing in competitive cars.

With our workers as progress-sharing partners, you can expect superior craftsmanship in Ramblers. American Motors' company-wide objective is to make trouble-free Ramblers a symbol of American industrial integrity and honesty... to make Rambler quality superior to that of even far costlier cars built anywhere in the world.

To accomplish this, we are sharing our progress with customers. Because to continue our growth we know we have to give you an obviously better value in product and in price.

How can Rambler give you more than the "Big Two"? It's a matter of dollars and cents.

Every completely new car in the past three years including the Lincoln Continental and Thunderbird has copied Rambler's modern principle of Single-Unit construction.

To convert from old-fashioned separate body-and-frame production lines to single-unit production requires hundreds of millions of dollars for retooling.

Our modern production lines have already been fully paid for. Therefore, we can spend our money to bring you important new benefits and keep our prices low. The records show that our two major competitors have increased prices on their low priced standard models about 50% more than Rambler in the period from 1955 to 1961.

This is one way in which Rambler has been sharing progress with customers.

We must be offering an obviously better value, for in just 12 months, 278,494 owners—of all makes, in all price ranges—switched to Rambler.

Rambler owners—new and old—say they are going to buy Rambler again. In owner loyalty, Rambler continues its big lead over ALL makes of cars — DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN, REGARDLESS OF PRICE—according to a recent survey for a national magazine.

With Rambler-pioneered Single-Unit construction, Rambler owners can keep their cars longer with fewer worries about rattles, rust and cost.

Rambler is the only U.S. car with Deep-Dip rustproofing clear to the roof. The only car with Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe. For the original buyer, it will be replaced free by a Rambler dealer if it ever rusts out (collision damage excepted).

For 1962, we have spend huge sums of money... largely for "under-the-skin" improvements which assure longer car life, greater safety, lower upkeep, more trouble-free, service-free driving; easier handling, better performance and superior comfort.

In the 1962 Ramblers you will find a Double-Safety Brake System, standard. It has a tandem master cylinder. One for front brakes. One for rear brakes. If one system is damaged, the other still works. (There are similar systems on Rolls-Royce, Jaguar and '62 Cadillac.) And self-adjusting brakes that compensate for brake lining wear are also standard.

You will find chassis lubrication on most models that lasts 33 times longer. Many parts are lubricated for life.

In all models, Dowgard Full-Fill Engine Coolant replaces both water and anti-freeze at low cost, and is good for 2 years.

There's much, much more—important improvements "under-the-skin" and in exterior and interior beauty.

October 6th is the 1962 Rambler announcement date. It is well worth waiting for. In the meantime send for a free booklet entitled, "What's New In Rambler For '62—And Why." Then "Think Hard." Rambler's better value can save you hundreds of dollars. Write to: Rambler Booklet, Dept. 2, Box 531, American Motors Sales Corp., Detroit 32, Michigan.

'West Side' An Expensive Musical Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — If the superlative-mingled "West Side Story" is the most expensive musical film ever made, it's also one of the best.

How can the brothers Mirisch spend $6 million on a musical? Especially one with a single expensive star—Natalie Wood at $250,000?

Take a high-priced stage property. Add a year's preparation with top talent—$250,000 on screen tests alone. Release for three months. Shoot for half a year. Do it in color, stereo sound and 70mm film. The bill mounts.

Profit or no, the film version was worth the chance. There has never been greater dancing on the screen. Number after number stirred Hollywood previewers to applause.

The theme seems forbidding for a musical. It is the story of a power clash between a native New York City gang and another of Puerto Rican newcomers. Two lovers, one from each side, are caught in the middle.

"West Side Story" is really a dance opera. The powerful dances of Jerome Robbins are the highly charged music of Leonard Bernstein are perfect for the milling and rumbling of the New York gangs.

But the device has its drawbacks, especially in dramatic moments. When the brother and sweetheart of the leading actresses is killed, the girls break into a duet. Credibility is strained.

Otherwise you're with the warring Jets and Sharks all the way, fascinated with their animal energy and appalled by their violence. Robert Wise, as producer

Mrs. Kehl of Sedalia was a guest and demonstrated the art of flower arranging.

Mrs. Ona Bodenhamer presided over the meeting and told of the West Central Regional Convention which will be held in March, 1962, in October, and to which Mrs. Welmeier and Mrs. Audrey Neumeier were appointed delegates.

Many beautiful arrangements were brought by the members and awards received by the following: Mrs. John Streit, first; Mrs. Audrey Neumeier, second; Mrs. Short, third, and Miss Laura Kruse.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Audrey Neumeier and Mrs. Euel Muschany.

and co-director, has done a fine job of holding the story together.

"West Side Story" is a star-making film. Natalie Wood, disappointing as Marjorie Morningstar, comes through as a top dramatic actress. Richard Beymer is her ill-starred lover is engaging and effective, he'll be around for a long time.

Russ Tamblyn is tough and gymnastic, and Rita Moreno does her best work to date. George Chakiris, leader of the Puerto Rican gang, is a real find. He's got star quality.

The film has one jarring note. The law is represented by a gorilla-like cop and a detective who is brutal and bigoted. This adds nothing to the plot and only underlines the gangs' belief the law is worthy of contempt.

Club to Hear Jack Booch

A brilliant rising star of stage and platform, Jack Booch, will be the speaker at the Knife and Fork Club dinner which will be held at the Bohwell Hotel at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Unpredictable, surprising, delightful, Booch talks on "The American Scene," giving a series of humorous, human and day-by-day experiences that bring laughs and chuckles for all. He has gathered a collection of Americana that is both whimsical and pleasing, and includes some of the most charming "Americana" and Fork Clubs.

A special guest of the evening will be Benjamin Franklin, international president of Knife and Fork Clubs.

There are several factors in addition to poorer illumination which account for the increased accident rate at night, all of which can be avoided or improved by an alert, informed and thoughtful driver.

Clean lenses and reflectors may increase the light output by which we drive from 40 to 130 percent over unclean lenses and reflectors. Lenses and reflectors should be cleaned and kept clean.

Headlights should be depressed or dimmed at least 100 feet before meeting another car. Many drivers think of this as a courtesy act but the main purpose is to provide greater safety—your own safety as well as for the other driver. It is eminently worthwhile, too, to dim lights when following another car.

Many drivers find that it is much easier to drive in moonlight than in extreme darkness. This is because the brightly lighted pavement area is in absolute contrast to the dark roadways and fields. Contrast such as this in light and dark is a cause of visual fatigue and drowsiness, even to the point of inducing sleep. The highway is a poor place in which to sleep. Long periods of driving at night should be avoided, especially on dark nights.

Finally, it has been found that the greatest incidence of night accidents is in the hour immediately following the tavern closings. When the hour of tavern closing was changed the high accident rate changed exactly with it. If you must drink, don't drive.

The American Ophthalmic Foundation is conducting studies at one of our leading universities which will lead to greater safety in night driving. The Missouri Ophthalmic Association urges every motorist to keep in mind the importance of his vision and the necessity for early and frequent examinations of eyes and vision.

Country Cousins Deceive City Lad On Snipe Chase

NEW YORK (AP)—When you are young, sometimes your reach to knowledge exceeds your grasp. Your reading can confuse you with reality.

I would like to tell you an experience of my own that taught me an unforgettable lesson. Never trust a country boy if that is all he can brag about.

Being from Kansas City, I was amazed at the number of raisins that carpeted the ceiling. I was even more surprised to find that the raisins had wings and were flies. That's the welcome you got in the old soft coal days.

Well, my country cousins played the usual tricks that rural egotism employs, such as getting you to mix stale chocolates and chewing tobacco, then gnaw a live elm hole for relief.

That was part of your belonging. I didn't mind the tricks—except one.

from home I was invited to hold the bag in a snipe hunt. The idea was that the victim held a gunny-sack before a lighted candle and waiting for a snipe to leap across the light into the bag.

One of the reasons I held the bag before the candle so earnestly and so long was that I had read in nature study books there was a bird called the snipe. I was willing to believe, although I hadn't met one in Missouri.

As I held the empty bag in the lonely dark with the night gathering in my heart, I knew I would never believe as much as I had before.

But in the years since then I have gone a bit farther. There is a snipe. There was a snipe then.

And I have been where the snip flies.

Reds' Race Is At the Wire; Long Wait May End Tonite

Magic Number Set At Two In Final Hour

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A wait of more than two decades may have dwindled into the final few hours for the Cincinnati Reds. Tonight could bring them their first National League pennant since 1940.

With the magic number at two, the race is at the wire. The Reds play the Cubs at Chicago this afternoon and the Los Angeles Dodgers are slated for a two-night doubleheader at Pittsburgh with last year's surprise flag winners, the Pirates.

Any combination of two—a Cincinnati win plus a Dodger defeat, or a pair of Dodger losses—would give the NL another bust-to-boom champion, and would send the Reds into the World Series against New York's home run-blasting Yankees.

Cincinnati was idle Monday night. The Dodgers and Pirates were rained out, setting up their two-nighter. In other NL games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2 with an 18-hit offensive and the Milwaukee Braves cut down the potential tying run at the plate in the ninth inning and edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

In the only American League action, Bob Shaw pitched eight no-hit innings but was rapped in the ninth as Kansas City gained a split with Detroit, 6-3. The Tigers clinched second place by winning their sixth in a row in the doubleheader opener, 6-4.

The Reds, streaking and slumping by turns this season and fighting back one challenge after another, are in a position to continue the latest National League trend—the up-from-nowhere winner.

The Dodgers began it in 1959, taking the pennant in a playoff with Milwaukee after finishing seventh the year before, then downed the Chicago White Sox in the series. Pittsburgh, fourth in '59, won the NL title last season and followed with a dramatic series triumph over the Yankees.

The Giants' free-swinging assault against the Phils was spearheaded by Orlando Cepeda and rookie catcher John Orsino.

Cepeda, on a torrid batting streak, had four hits and drove in four runs, boosting his league-leading RBI total to 140. Orsino homered twice and singled, while Willie Mays and Felipe Alou also contributed three hits each. Left-hander Mike McCormick (13-16) was tagged for 10 hits but won in a breeze. Don Farrar (5-11) batted out early, was the loser.

The Braves saved their narrow decision over the Cards by cutting down Ken Boyer when he tried to score on an almost-wild pitch by Don McMahon. Ray Washburn (0-1), in his first big league start, gave up a first-inning homer to Hank Aaron and balked across the deciding run in the fourth. Milwaukee starter Carl Willey (6-12) collaborated on a five-hitter with McMahon.

Shaw (12-13) reached the ninth inning before his try for a no-hitter blew up. Dick McAuliffe led off the Tiger ninth and was safe on Dick Howser's wild throw, then Bubba Morton clipped the Kansas City right-hander for a solid single. An infield out, a sacrifice fly, Larry Osborne's homer and a single by Jake Wood followed before Frank House popped up for the last out.

A five-run burst in the eighth brought Detroit from behind in the opening game. Wood, pinch-batters Al Kaline and Vic Wertz, Bill Bruton and Morton knocked in the runs in the Tiger rally.

Roger Maris Resumes Try For 60th Run

NEW YORK — Roger Maris, still looking for "a pitcher to make a mistake," resumes his search for his 60th home run tonight as the New York Yankees return to Yankee Stadium for their last five games of the regular season.

Baltimore, with a pitching staff that has allowed only two homers to the 27-year-old slugger, furnishes the opposition tonight and Wednesday afternoon, and the Boston Red Sox for the final three games—Friday night, and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Maris, who'll have to settle for a 162-game record in his challenge to Babe Ruth's all-time total of 60 in 1927 if he manages to hit any more, isn't at all confident.

"They (the pitchers) aren't giving me anything to hit," he said. "I'd have a better chance at the Stadium if they pitched to me. But, you watch, they'll pitch me outside. The only way I'll get another one is if a pitcher makes a mistake."

Being human, pitchers do—but only Chuck Estrada and Milt Pappas of the Orioles have made the fatal mistake to Maris this season.

Pappas, who was rapped for Maris' No. 59 last Wednesday night in Baltimore, is the Orioles' probable starter Wednesday. To-probable starter Wednesday. Tonight, it's Jack Fisher, who beat the Yanks in Baltimore last week the day after Maris had reached the 154-team decision limit that eliminated him under Commissioner Ford Frick's ruling as an official challenger to Ruth.

The law of averages would indicate that Maris should hit at least one home run, possibly two, in the last five games. In 76 games at the Stadium, he has hit 23—an average of a home run every 2.7 games.

ARM close to body and straight.

7 — PENDULUM

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The thing that makes the four-step delivery click is the pendulum swing.

Just as the pendulum on a grandfather's clock moves forward, back and forward, so does the bowling ball.

The first step, the pushaway, has gotten the ball in motion. It begins its descent on the second step. If the timing is right, the ball will be alongside the right knee as you put the weight on the left foot. During the second step the arm should be close to the body and straight.

The second and third steps should be so carefully rehearsed and practiced that they become automatic.

Ed Lubanski, all-time American

Bowling Congress all-events record holder, passes along these tips:

Take the left hand from the ball as you begin the second step. If you hold the ball with both hands too long, your timing will be off and you will be ahead of the ball. If you take the left hand from the ball too quickly, the ball will be ahead of you at the foul line. Practice coordinating your motions.

Lubanski suggests you check to see that the arm is straight during the downswing by putting a towel under the arm while practicing. If the towel falls out on the second step, you know you are not swinging straight. Not swinging straight causes the ball to veer to the side.

NEXT: The backswing.

THE DAY BABE BELTED NO. 60—Lou Gehrig, next up, was first to congratulate a beaming Babe Ruth when he established the seasonal major league home run record at 60 by belting a Tom Zachary pitch half way up the right field bleachers at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 30, 1927. The batboy was next to extend his hand. The Washington catcher was Bennie Tate, the umpire Bill Dineen. Note that players were not yet wearing numbers.

Iowa Called Top College Grid Team

By ED CORIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, which doesn't open its season until Saturday, was voted the top college football team in the country today in the first regular-season Associated Press weekly poll.

The special national panel of 49 sports writers and sportscasters gave the Hawkeyes, who tangled with California in their opener, 343 points to 332 for second-place Mississippi and 309 for third-place Ohio State, another outfit that doesn't get rolling until Saturday.

The points were based on the formula of 10 for first place, 9 for second and so on.

Iowa, which also led the preseason poll, received 19 first place votes to 12 for Mississippi and 7 for Ohio State. The Buckeyes, second to Iowa in the preseason poll, play Texas Christian in their first game Saturday.

Mississippi's smoothly contrived 16-0 victory over Arkansas in a nationally televised game last week obviously impressed the panel. Ole Miss was placed no better than ninth in the preseason poll with a mere two first-place votes.

Alabama and Syracuse also gained prestige on their opening-day triumphs. The Crimson Tide trounced Georgia 32-6 and Syracuse clubbed Oregon State 19-8. That pushed Alabama up to No. 4, just a shade behind Ohio State, and Syracuse to No. 5.

The top 10 teams—first place votes in parentheses:

Iowa (19)	343
Mississippi (12)	332
Ohio State (7)	309
Alabama (6)	307
Syracuse	233
Texas (1)	227
Rice (2)	220
Penn State (2)	192
UCLA	98
Michigan State	80

Other teams receiving votes: Missouri, Baylor, Georgia Tech, Texas Christian, Purdue, Kansas, Florida, Maryland, Louisiana State, Duke, Minnesota, Oregon, Pitt, Kansas State, Auburn, Notre Dame, Army, Wyoming, Wisconsin, North Carolina State, Colorado, Mississippi State, Tennessee, Utah State, Furman, California.

Maris, Mantle Are 'Also Rans' On Life Basis

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are undoubtedly the outstanding home run hitters of 1961, but on a lifetime per at bat basis the New York Yankee sluggers are among the also-rans.

Babe Ruth, whose 60 homers, Maris will attempt to surpass during the Yanks' final five games, has 714 lifetime homers in 8,399 times at bat for an average of one home run in each 11.8 official try.

Maris, with 59 homers this year, has 156 in 2,450 total at bats for an average of one homer in every 15.7 trips. Mantle has 521 circuits in 7,706 at bats and 521 circuits in 8,134 official plate appearances.

Lopez Signs New Contract With Chisox

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez, the only manager to crack New York Yankee pennant superiority since 1948, will pilot the Chicago White Sox for the sixth consecutive season in 1962.

Lopez, 53, signed a one-year contract Monday after suffering the worst finish of his managerial career. The Sox will wind up fourth this year.

Last year they finished third. Previous to last season, no team managed by Lopez, a former National League catcher, had finished lower than second.

Lopez won pennants with the Cleveland Indians in 1954 and the White Sox in 1959. His one burning ambition is to manage a team to a world championship, something he failed to achieve in 1954 and again in 1959.

In signing Lopez to what is believed to be a $50,000 contract, General Manager Ed Short said, "I am delighted that Al has decided to remain with the White Sox. I consider him the best manager in baseball and I hope he stays with us a long, long time."

The New York Mets and the Baltimore Orioles had been reported interested in Lopez' service as manager. Lopez said neither club had approached him.

Although the Sox are 20 games off the pace in the American League race, Lopez feels his club can be a solid contender in 1962.

"I was disappointed this season," he said. "I thought we had a much better club. With a little luck and some pitching help we'll be in fine shape next year."

US Tennis Chances Called About Even

NEW DELHI (AP) — The captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team said today America's chances look about even in the interzone tennis finals against India this weekend.

David L. Freed, non-playing captain of the Americans, said India possibly should have a little edge because its star, Ram-anathan Krishnan, is the best singles player on the two teams.

"But our average ability may be a little higher, so it works out about even," Freed told a group of sports writers.

The U.S. team is led by Chuck McKinley, 20-year-old Trinity University sophomore who lost to Australia's Rod Laver in the Wimbledon finals this year.

Other members of the American team are Whitney Reed, whom the Indians fear as an upset artist, Donald Dell and Martin Riessen.

Deer Hunting Permits To Be In Four Types

Four types of deer hunting permits — each a different color — have been sent by the Conservation Commission to distributing agents throughout the state and are now, or soon will be, on sale to hopeful nimrods in all Missouri's 114 counties and the city of St. Louis.

H. Reed Frisbie, permit supervisor for the commission, said about 82 per cent of the permits distributed were resident firearms tags for use by Missourians during the gun season Nov. 15 to 21. The rest were resident archer's tags for the Oct. 1 to Dec. 15 archery deer season, and non-resident firearms and archer's permits.

The types of permits are distinguished by colors: The resident firearms tag is green, the non-resident archery tag is salmon, the non-resident archery tag is canary, and the non-resident firearms tag is white.

Resident permits cost $5.25 each. Non-resident firearms permits are $20.25 and non-resident archer's permits are $10.25 each. With purchase of a deer tag, hunters will receive copies of

Shaw Should Have Left His Slider Home

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I like to throw the slider but tonight I should have left it home," says Bob Shaw.

It was a slider that Bubba Morton drilled into center field for a single in the ninth inning Monday night, ending a no-hit bid by Shaw against the Detroit Tigers.

The 28-year-old Kansas City A's right-hander completed the game for his 12th victory against 13 losses, but was touched for two more hits—one a home run by Larry Osborne.

The Athletics won 6-3 after dropping the first game of a double-header 6-4. Detroit clinched second place in the American League with its victory.

All three Detroit hits came off sliders that "didn't do just right," Shaw commented.

"No I didn't get tired," he said. "In fact I felt real good starting the ninth. Then I let that slider go and—bang—Morton hits it into center field. And that was the first pitch, too."

Shaw said he was well aware that he had a no-hitter working.

"Oh yeah, you know what's going on out there," he said. "Don't let anybody kid you about that. And after that first hit, well I guess I kind of let down a little bit."

The beginning of Shaw's disappointment came when Dick McAuliffe reached first on a throwing error by Dick Howser starting the last inning. Then came Morton's single. McAuliffe scored on a sacrifice fly by Geo. Alusik. Osborne hit a home run over the right field wall to end the scoring, but Jake Wood added a single before the inning was over.

Shaw walked only three batters and struck out seven. Prior to the ninth, the only well-hit ball off him was a fly to deep left by Wood in the sixth.

Shaw broke in with Detroit in 1957. He had a 0-1 record that season. He was traded to Chicago in 1958 and posted a 5-4 record that year.

In 1959 Shaw had an earned run average of 2.69 in posting a 18-6 record for the White Sox and winning one and losing one in the World Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Shaw had a 9-9 record with Kansas City since coming to the A's in a trade early in the season.

The Milwaukee Braves tightened their hold on fourth place in the National League with a 2-1 victory over St. Louis.

Carl Willey earned his sixth victory in 18 decisions but needed ninth inning help from Don McMahon.

The triumph put the Braves two games ahead of the Cards in the first division race.

Hank Aaron hit his 34th homer of the year in the first inning.

Willey allowed only one hit after the fourth inning until Julian Javier opened the ninth with a walk, moved to third on a double by Ken Boyer and scored on Stan Musial's infield out.

Says DeGaulle A Failure With One-Man Regime

PARIS (AP)—Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France said Monday that one-man rule by President Charles de Gaulle has failed in France and that now is the time to prepare a transitional government for a new regime.

Mendes-France was one of the few French political leaders to campaign actively against the De Gaulle-sponsored constitution for the Fifth Republic. His opposition at the height of the general's popularity cost Mendes-France much of his popular support and he failed to be reelected to his deputy's seat in 1958.

At a news conference, Mendes-France said "one man, no matter how illustrious, cannot at by himself take the place of the state. He cannot alone impose respect for the law."

Finley Seeking Apology Over A Story Hassle

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley owner of the Kansas City Athletics, says an apology should be made to him over a hassle with a sports writer.

Finley made a "poison pen award" to Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, at a game Aug. 20 after Mehl had criticized Finley's handling of the ball club.

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick on Aug. 23 told the Associated Press in New York:

"Such things do not belong in baseball and I called Mehl this morning and apologized to him, both personally and in the name of baseball."

Finley has sent a 20-page letter, dated Sept. 5, to Frick requesting the commissioner to withdraw that apology.

"If any apology is due, it should come to me, because I have done no moral wrong but have myself been the victim of one of the most scurrilous attacks in baseball history," he said.

Frick refused to comment in New York Monday on whether he had apologized to Mehl.

There was no comment from Mehl.

East Germans Swim River In Full Daylight

WITZENHAUSEN, Germany (AP)—A 62-year-old East German farmer and his wife, son and daughter-in-law swam to freedom across a closely guarded Communist border river near here Monday.

West German police reported the four crossed the 100-foot-wide River Werra in full daylight and then asked for asylum in West Germany.

They told police conditions in the collective farm near the border where they had been working had become unbearable.

The clean, uncluttered styling of Buick for 1962 is exemplified in the Electra 225 series with its sporty new roofline and its tailored rear decklid with the windsplit down the center. The long, sweeping lines of the front and rear fenders make the car look bigger without increasing its size. The new roofline with its wide sloping rear pillars identify the Electra 225 series, one of the most luxurious cars in the fine car field. Passenger comfort has been improved for 1962 by the almost complete elimination of the transmission hump in the floor of the front passenger compartment. The Electra 225 is powered by a 401 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor, coupled with Buick's smooth Turbine Drive transmission. May be seen at Mike O'Connor's, 1300 South Limit in Sedalia.

Salesmen Hear Their Share Of Quacky Quips On Calls

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a door-to-door salesman gets tired of hearing:

"Whatever it is you're peddling, we got already."

"I can't understand whatever got into Prince. He's usually such a good-natured dog. He hasn't bitten anyone in ages and ages."

"Lock the screen door. Here comes another one."

"So what if you are trying to work your way through college, young man? I'm trying to keep my wife from spending our way into the poorhouse."

"I might be interested in your proposition—that is, if you accept credit cards."

"What in the world would I want with an encyclopedia set? We already got a book—and if there's anything I don't know my wife is only too glad to set me straight."

"If the supermarket gives trading stamps, why can't you?"

"You've been so patient listening to me tell about my operation for two hours that I'd be glad to buy a lipstick from you—but you don't have any in my shade."

"If you have any free samples, I'll try them out, and let you know next week for sure whether I want to buy the large economy size."

"If this foot powder is so good for tired, sore and aching feet, just tell me one thing: Why are you limping?"

"This article looks interesting. Wait while I read it clear through and if I like it I'll take a six-month subscription to the magazine—maybe."

"Sit down and rest your tootsies, my boy. This is my day off. What are you selling? You are? Well, my line is life insurance. Now, have you ever considered that if you just—"

"My husband just phoned and said he'd be home late, the baby is crying with the mumps, my dishwasher has sprung a leak, the car ran up a tree and can't get down—and now you knock on the door and try to sell me a new skin cream to make my complexion more lovely! What I want is something that will help a housewife keep her sanity. Have you got a jar of that?"

"I bet you have a lot of weird experiences, going from door to door like you do. Tell me, what was the most—"

"I'll take the 39-cent size, if you can cash a personal check for $25."

"Never mind what you're sell-

Sue Doctors Of Chandler

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Jeff Chandler's death last June has resulted in a $1.5-million damage suit against six doctors and a hospital.

The suit, filed Monday, alleged negligence, malpractice, wrongful death and assault and battery. It was filed on behalf of Chandler's children and his estate.

Named as defendants were Drs. Marvin A. Korbin, Peter B. Samuels, Sam Galinson, Kenneth J. Richland, Alan M. Rosenberg and Milton Rosenthal; and Culver City Hospital. Also named in the suit were 20 John Does.

ing. Here, take this screwdriver and help me fix my vacuum cleaner. There's a rattle in it somewhere."

"Turn about is fair play. I'll take one of your $2.98 bath brushes if you'll buy a box of these $4.95 Christmas cards we ladies are selling to raise funds for a basketball court in the basement of our church."

"You mean you only made 136 house calls today, George? You're going to have to average twice that many for the rest of the month if we're ever going to win that free round trip to Bermuda."

"The victim was caused to die," the action said, "by the combined negligence of the defendants, or one or more of them, and it is requested that the court determine the liability of each."

Chandler, 42, underwent surgery at Culver City Hospital May 13 for a slipped spinal disc.

A few days later he suffered severe internal bleeding and was given 55 pints of blood. He rallied and seemed headed for recovery, but suffered a relapse and died June 17. Death was attributed to general blood infection.

There was no immediate comment from the doctors.

The hospital released a statement disclaiming any responsibility in the death.

The suit asked $1 million for daughters Jamie, 14, and Dana, 11, plus $500,000 for the estate. Chandler's divorced wife, Marjorie, asked nothing.

Serving aboard the destroyer USS Harold J. Ellison operating as a unit of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean is Ernest L. Clevenger, electrician's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Clevenger, Windsor.

The crew spent three days in early August at Menton, France, as guests of the city and assisted in the Riviera city's annual Flower and Music Festival celebration.

Following the stay at Menton, the Ellison returned to sea with the Sixth Fleet for 10 days of operations and then was scheduled to return to Riviera at Golfe Juan, France, where Cdr. Hilmon E. Walters, Jr., was scheduled to relieve Cdr. Thomas E. Bass, III, as the Ellison's commanding officer.

Here tomorrow—a great new exclusive from Buick

ADVANCED THRUST

Moves power forward for arrow-straight going

It puts the engine ahead like the tip of an arrow • It tames "wind wander" and road sway • It sweeps you forward in a hush of luxury • It turns the floor hump into foot space.

WHAT IT IS—Buick's big new move: It positions the great new Wildcat V-8 and Turbine Drive way up front over Buick's front wheels.

WHAT IT DOES—As the engine went forward, the floor hump went DOWN. And, the forward weight makes wheel response far quicker, cornering far surer, ride far smoother.

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT—It's the closest you can come to sports car handling in a passenger car. Distances shrink before its 3/4-G thrust. Hills disappear. Lean on curves is really gone. Winds don't make you wander. It's going at its Buick best!
